

Florida Seaports: Combating Human Trafficking

Florida seaports are committed to combatting human trafficking and promoting awareness and education among stakeholders, tenants and maritime related transportation companies aimed at recognizing warning signs of Human Trafficking.

About Human Trafficking

The International Labor Organization estimates that there are 20.9 million victims of trafficking around the world. Domestically, Florida continues to rank third in the nation in the number of calls to the National Human Trafficking Hotline.

Victims of human trafficking include children, women and men who are subjected to sexual exploitation or forced labor through force, fraud or coercion.

According to a study of U.S. Department of Justice human trafficking task force cases, 83 percent of sex trafficking victims identified in the United States were U.S. citizens. The average age that a trafficked victim is first used for commercial sex is 12-14.
